Gene McGuire received a life sentence for a murder he did not commit. Serving that life sentence ... he found life. No one would have imagined such an outcome when, as a 17-year-old, he was convicted of Second Degree Murder and heard the judge speak those ominous words, ..".for the rest of your natural life." In Unshackled, McGuire takes readers from the scene of the crime--a lakeside tavern in sleepy little Lake Winola, Pennsylvania through 34 years, nine months, and 15 days of incarceration, all while serving a life sentence... for a murder he didn't commit. Glimpses of light penetrate a world of abject darkness, making Unshackled a most surprising, engaging and liberating read--a powerful and moving story of freedom, forgiveness and moving forward in life.

Christianity Unshackled follows the development of Western thought over the last 2,000 years, showing how Christianity has grown up side-by-side with Western philosophy. Great errors have resulted from that entanglement, primarily because Western philosophy has its roots in the ancient Greek worldview. After untangling that mess, Harold R. Eberle rebuilds a Christian worldview, laying biblical truths on the ancient Hebrew foundation. This yields a worldview which is liberating, answers the questions of today's society and stands up against the most fearsome attacks from Christianity's modern opponents.

At only eight years old Janie Burkett was introduced to a lifelong enemy named insecurity that would drag her down many a dark path and constantly stand between her and true happiness. Janie's battles with insecurity started with her weight and fear of abandonment, but escalated into so much more. By fifteen she found herself slipping into a lifestyle that promised only despair, turning her back on God and relying on alcohol and men to fill a growing void. Her life went from bad to worse and Janie soon found herself a full-blown addict with a life-threatening eating disorder by age twenty. Janie continued on in a life of darkness, but had no idea how far she had slipped until finally her deeds caught up with her on December 18, 2008, when she stood before a judge and received news that would alter her life forever.

This is the story of two men. One, Harold Morris, was white - a sharecropper's son from South Carolina. The other Marcus "Doc" Odomes, was black - raised by his mother in inner city New York. Both men were poisoned by the hatred of racism. They both chose to live their lives in the fast lane: alcohol, drugs & running with the wrong crowd. Both were doing life sentences at Georgia State Penitentiary when the prison was forced to integrate under federal mandate. After the prison rioted against integration, the warden threw Harold & Doc into an eight-foot by ten-foot cell & the door was slammed shut. Inmates & guards were laying odds on which would kill the other. Both were all-state athletes before entering the prison, & they were used by the warden to recruit other inmates to play in the first organized integrated basketball game in the prison's history. This game was the catalyst for the successful integration of the prison. Through living, fighting, coaching & playing together, they came to respect one another, learn from one another & finally love one another. Through this gripping story of two men's lives we see how hatred & racism were overcome, & we see the prejudice, pain, suffering & the thread that binds us all. This is their story.

Clint Bolick and Kate J. Hardiman begin with a thought experiment: how would we structure a 21st-century K&–12 school system if we were starting from scratch, attending to contemporary parental needs and harnessing the power of technology? Maintaining that the status quo is unacceptable, they take a forward-thinking look at how choice, competition, deregulation, and decentralization can create disruptive innovation and reform education for all students. The US Supreme Court proclaimed 65 years ago in Brown v. Board of Education that our schools must provide equal educational opportunities, but as Bolick and Hardiman argue we have yet to make good on that promise. School systems are bound to antiquated structures, outdated technology, and bureaucratic systems that work for adults, not children. The COVID-19 pandemic has highlighted how ossified the traditional public school system has become. Today's ruptures in traditional learning create opportunity for reinvention. Unshackled explains that technology can redefine the ways students learn in and out of the classroom and highlights the benefits of expanding educational freedom so that families are able to choose an Sullivan, who says she was a victim of mind control since childhood, presents a shocking account of her experiences as an assassin, prostitute, and human guinea pig for satanic rituals and experiments.

Is your retirement fund controlled by the government? If you have a 401(k), it is. We all know that the government doesn't generate money; it takes it. Yet if we're investing our money into a qualified retirement plan, such as a 401(k), then we're blindly entrusting the government to manage our future income. Conventional wisdom touts it as the best choice, the only choice really, if you want to have a retirement fund at all. Unfortunately, we discover too late that our hard-earned investment doesn't take us as far in our retirement as we thought it would. In Unshackled, author Zachariah Parry doesn't mince words as he opens your eyes to the reality of investing in a "qualified plan" and the limitations imposed upon your money. With the knowledge and experience only a seasoned attorney can offer, Parry exposes the truth about the conventional wisdom that has kept you broke. Within this book, you'll learn: - Exactly what a 401(k) and other qualified plans are - The difference between savvy (and legal) tax planning and tax evasion - The attributes of a perfect investment vehicle - A tried-and-proven way to quickly get out of debt - How to grow your money and keep more of it And much more! By the end of this book, conventional wisdom will be thrown out the window. You'll be empowered to sluff off those chains and finally take control of your -money so that you can live a life that is truly unshackled!

Kathleen Sullivan's experiences as part of a criminal network that includes Intelligence personnel, military personnel, doctors and mental health professionals contracted by the military and the CIA, criminal cult leaders and members, pedophiles, pornographers, drug dealers and Nazis. I'm not an exhibitionist, I writes Kathleen. I value my privacy. And yet, I believe my story needs to be told so that more people will understand how `Manchurian Candidate` style mind-control techniques can create alter-states in the mind's unwitting victims, causing them to perform deeds that are normally repugnant.
